The Establishment of the Territory of Iowa

Century of Progress in Education in Our State

EIGHTEEN HUNDRED THIRTY-EIGHT

HIGH SCHOOL

THE YEAR 1938 marks the centennial of the establishment of the Territory of Iowa. Immediate steps were taken by the territorial legislature to organize a system of public schools, and in no other field of endeavor throughout the century has there been greater progress in our state than in education. The first school "kept" in Iowa was near the head of the rapids a few miles up the river from Keokuk. The first schoolhouse built for school purposes was in Burlington in 1833. In January, 1838, seminaries of learning were legally established in Burlington, Dubuque, Mount Pleasant, Farmington, West Point, and Fort Madison.

According to Hartman in his "History of Black Hawk County, Iowa," "As the home of the modern public school system, Black Hawk County is the leading county of Iowa in education and educational facilities. There are larger schools in the state, but taking the whole school system into account, the county's resources are great." The first schoolhouse in the county was at Cedar Falls in 1846. The first schoolhouse in Waterloo was a log building, 16 x 22 feet, located on Jefferson Street. It was built in 1853. From the time of the inception of the first schools, the march of education has gone steadily forward, and education in the modern world is constantly growing in importance. The century of change and growth in our system of schools was accomplished only by the constant efforts and devotion of educators and citizens whose influence still lives and whose lives are an inspiration to greater service.

The students of West High School acknowledge their debt of gratitude to those who have gone before and have provided almost unlimited educational opportunities for them. As a pledge of their loyalty to their high school, and as a challenge to the ones who follow, they would strive to prove themselves worthy of the great heritage of the past.

FOREWORD

In recognition of his splendid achievements, in acknowledgment of his services to West High, and as an expression of appreciation for his personal interest and fairness to the student body, we fondly dedicate this—the 1938 Wahawk—to Mr. George H. Fields.

The School

the School

Our High School has a long and honorable past, replete with worthwhile accomplishments for education.

Accepting the challenge that they are laying the foundation for the civilization of tomorrow, and realizing that only education can conserve the social heritage and preserve the American democracy, the administration works enthusiastically and unitedly for the interest and welfare of the school.

Public education in West Waterloo has made vast progress during the past century. Today, our system of public schools comprises eight grade schools, three junior high schools, and one large high school.

During the years from 1853, when the first school was held in a log building on the west side, to 1866, there were several subdistricts, but in 1866 an election was held to establish the Independent School District of Waterloo.

In 1870 the first brick school building ever erected in the city was constructed at a cost of $12,765.00. To this Central building additions were made in 1870, 1884 and 1896. The building was also remodeled in 1927. The Emerson grade building was erected in 1896, with additions made in 1906 and 1916. The Lowell building was constructed in 1897 with an addition made later. West High was added to the system in 1901. Whittier grade school was built in 1906, with additions in 1909 and 1915; Washington Irving in 1913; Edison in 1914, with an addition in 1936 to include a junior high school; Kingsley in 1919. The present West High building was completed in 1922. An annex of the Whittier building, now the Riverview school, was moved to the Lowell district in 1928 and accommodates a kindergarten and first and second grades. The new Lowell building was constructed in 1931. Castle Hill school was annexed to the West District in 1937 by vote of the people of both districts.

The following administrators have served the West Waterloo Schools since the establishment of the 12-grade system in 1885:

1885 - Chas. D. Moyer	1897 - S. H. Sheakley	1922 - J. C. McGlade
1889 - E. H. Eastman	1899 - A. T. Hukill	1924 - S. M. Wallace
1891 - Geo. Bateman	1919 - H. D. Lee

Succeeding Mr. Wallace, Mr. Charles A. Kittrell was elected Superintendent of Schools, in which position he has continued since 1926.

The pioneers of education in Waterloo built well for succeeding generations. No pride in our splendid buildings and our fine school system can overlook what they, with their far-sighted ideals, have done for us. The future of civilized life is in the free school, maintained by and serving all the people impartially. Knowing what has been done, and realizing what is still to do, we would carry the torch on toward the goal to which the glorious past of our forefathers urges us.

From its origin, as only the ninth grade in the West Waterloo Public School, to the magnificent institution it is today, the history of West High School has been one of continuous development. Today it stands as an ever-growing monument to those who have made it possible.

During its early years, the entire school system was located in the old Central Building, now a landmark in West Waterloo. In 1870 an addition was made to this building to house the high school, and in 1873 a committee was appointed to plan a program of studies. Thus the West High School of today first achieved an entity of its own. From the Central Building, the West Waterloo High School first moved in 1901 to what is now the Sloane Wallace Building, and then to the present building in 1922.

In 1876, when the first class was graduated with three members, there were but nine grades in the school. The addition of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades in 1877, 1882, and 1885 respectively gave West Waterloo a four-year high school.

The history of the administration of the high school shows the same gradual development. In the earliest days of the school, the teacher of the highest grade acted as the superintendent or principal, one person serving in both capacities. It is not known just when these two positions were made separate, except that as early as 1898 an annual speaks of a certain teacher as a principal, although the official records do not. In 1906 Sloane M. Wallace, now deceased, was appointed high school principal. He continued as principal until 1924, when Fred J. Kluss, now of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was appointed. He served until 1928, when William W. Gibson was elected to this position.

The citizens of West Waterloo, and especially West High's 3955 alumni, point with pride to their high school as one of the most outstanding in the state.

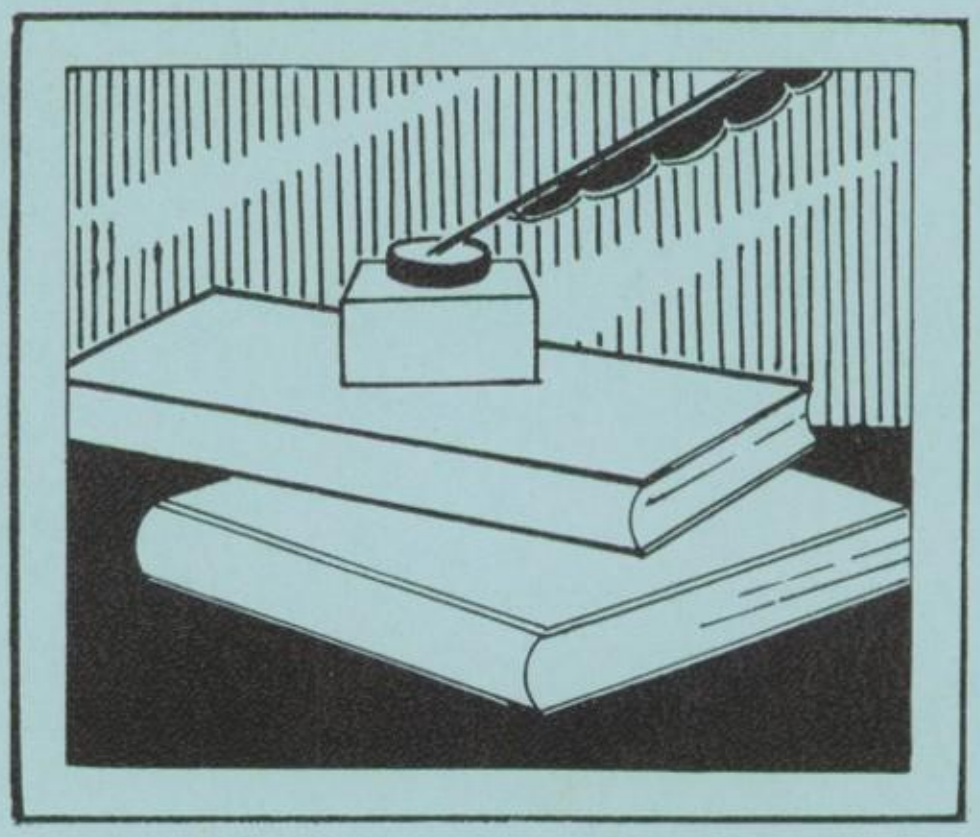
BOOK TWO

Classes



Classes

In the classrooms of today opportunity is afforded the students in growth and development of attitudes and appreciations as well as in the acquisition of knowledge.

Two things are expected of a student of West High School, —that he take every possible advantage of the opportunities his school offers, and that when he has been graduated, he is willing and able to keep on learning.

The Girls' Athletic Association of West High School, affiliated with the state association, has an active membership of sixty-six girls.

The G. A. A. program follows the standard set up by the state association. The local award is an old rose and black W signifying that the wearer has earned 500 points selected from any of the various athletics. A minimum of 500 additional points is required for the state award, a gold and black pin.

Those wearing the state pin are Patricia Seese, Ruth Herzberg, Ruth Kilby, and Blanche Weigel.

Miss Twomley, supervisor of physical education for girls, is sponsor of G. A. A.

DECLAMATORY

In the Home Contest Peter Seip placed first in the oratorical division with the selection, "At Whose Risk", by Lawrence Touchae. First place in the dramatic class went to Florene Barker, with the reading, "The Minuet", by Lewis N. Parker, while Bette Gibson took first in the humorous division with, "Rich Man, Poor Man", by Bertha Y. Burrill.

In the first round of the State Declamatory contest, held at Reinbeck, February 22, West took two firsts. Peter Seip and Florene Barker both won in their respective divisions.

The second round of the contest was held at West High, in the Little Theater. This time Peter and Florene each won second place.

SPEECH FESTIVAL

Six entrants from West High were chosen from a Speech Class conducted by Miss Dorothea Western to compete in the Speech Festival held at Iowa City, April 23.

West was represented by Bette Gibson, Florene Barker, Avonne Campbell, and Don Templeton. The alternates were Gerry Garner, and Betty Hollopeter. More than seventy contestants from all parts of the state were entered. Bette, Florene, and Avonne each received an excellent rating.

ORIGINAL ORATORY

Ralph Teske very ably represented West High by winning the first place in the Original Oratory District Contest held at Oelwein the latter part of February. His oration was entitled, "The Twilight of Peace". He competed against Cedar Falls, Clarion, and Cedar Rapids. By winning this contest he was entitled to represent this district at Iowa City, but was unable to speak because of illness.

Friendship Club

The Friendship Club, the West High branch of the Y. W. C. A., has enjoyed a busy and profitable year. Meetings were held every other week.

The club was entertained by a number of social functions. Together with East High organizations, the girls sponsored a circus in the fall, Mother-Daughter banquet in February, and entertained the Iowa Girl Reserve Conference in April.

Miss Western is the sponsor of the club.

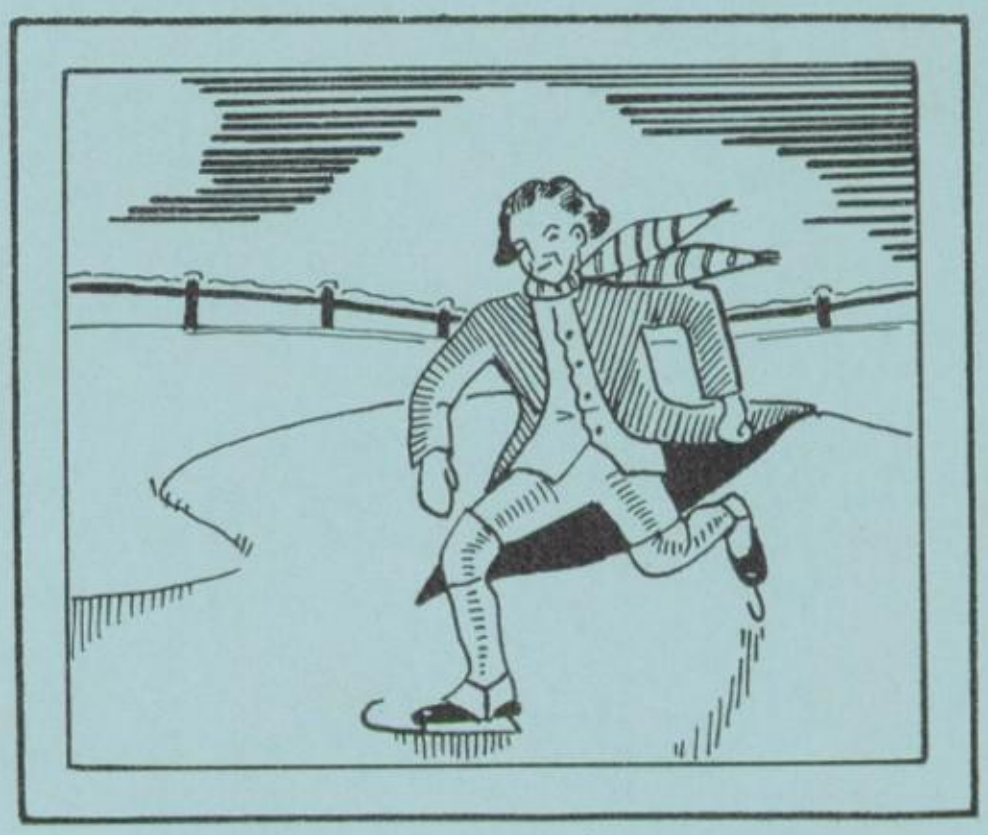
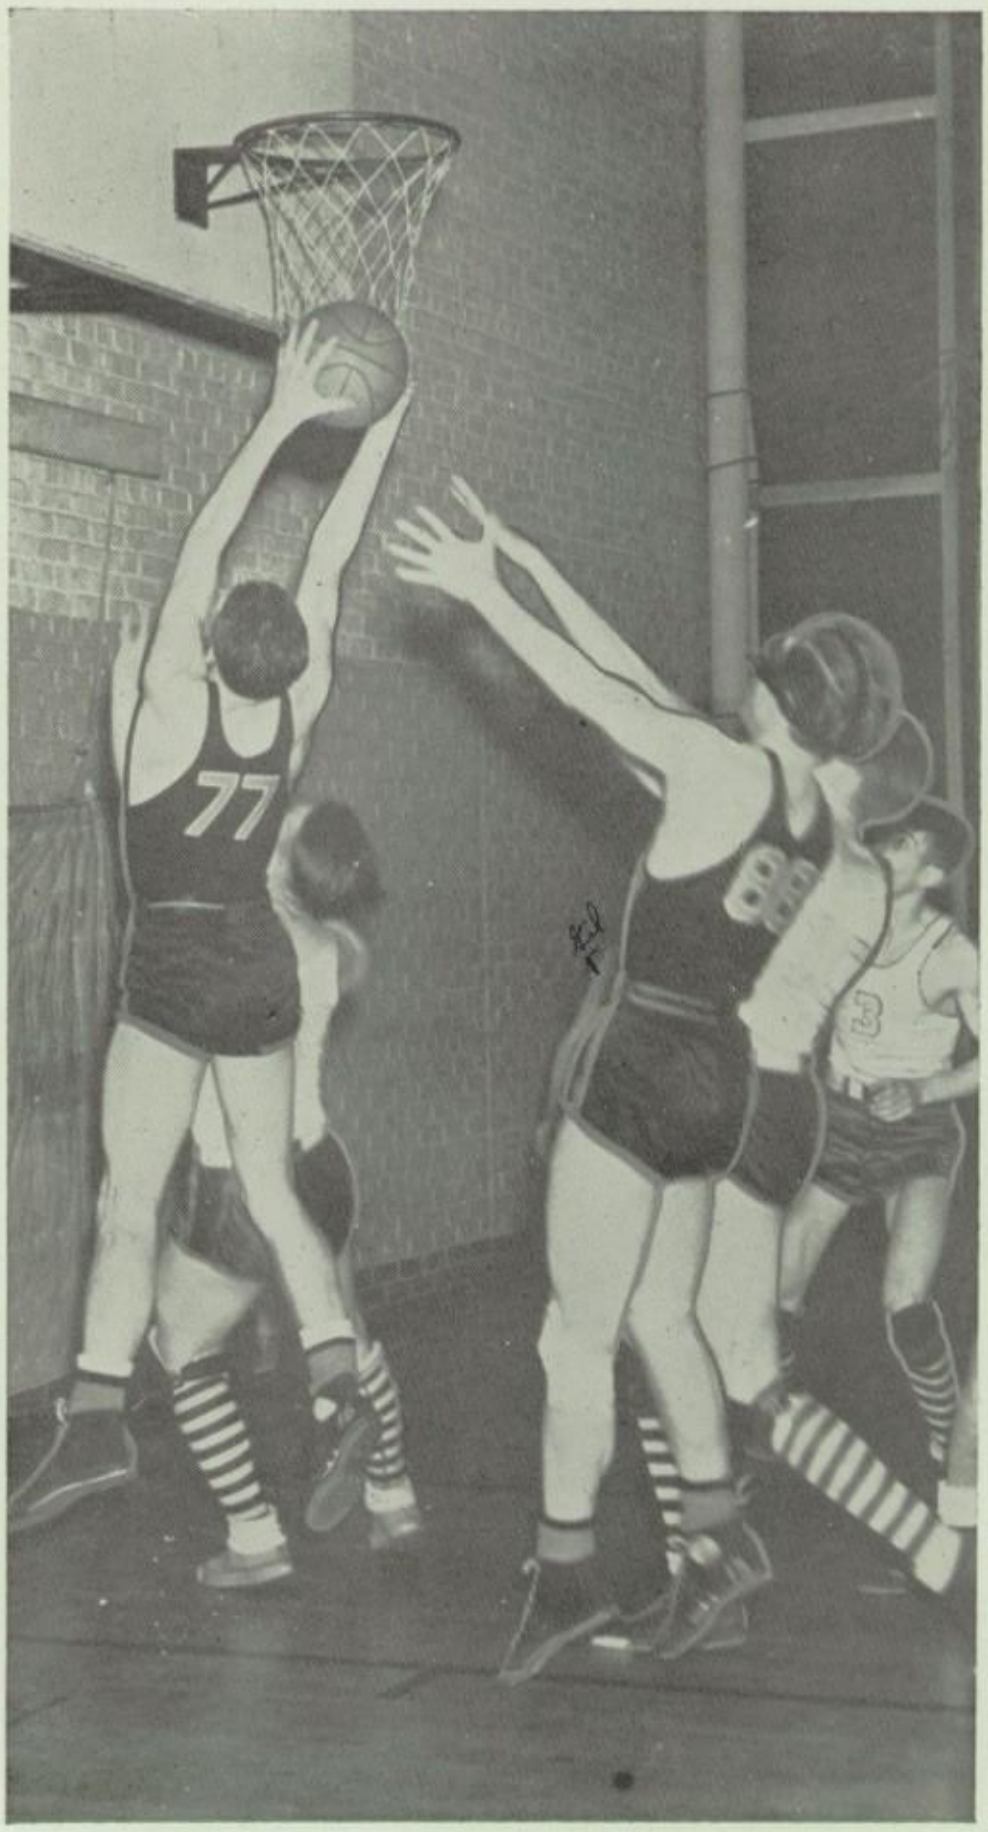
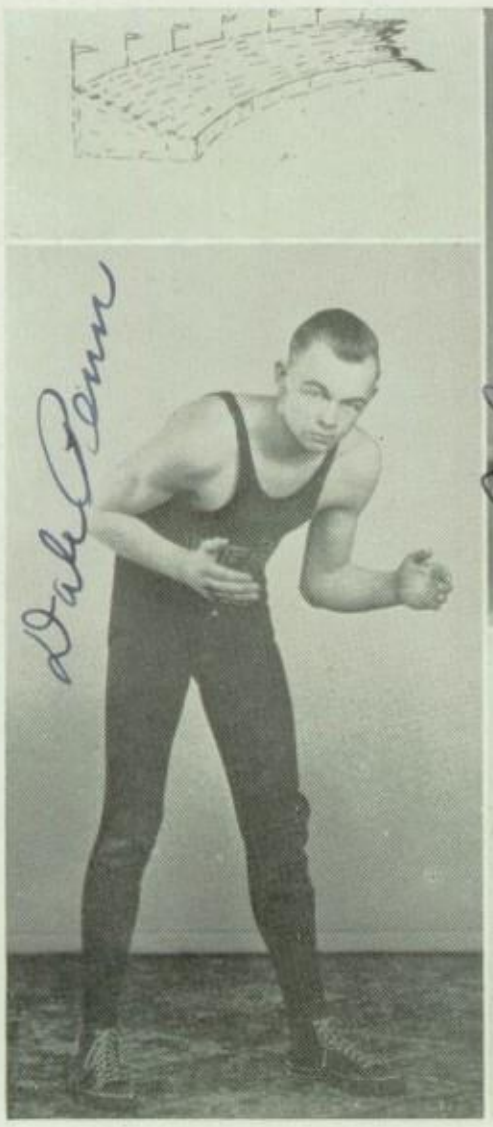
Athletics



Athletics



The same painstaking effort, persistence, and courage that characterized the pioneering forefathers of our great state also brought our athletes to their goals. These qualities are the only formula by which any great aim will ever be achieved. Whether one wants to be a track star, an architect, an engineer, or a statesman, he must train for it.



All-State Athletes 1938

Dale Penn was State Champion in the 145 pound division. During the regular season, he wrestled in the 155 and 165 pound divisions. He was high-point man on the squad for two straight seasons. Dale was the first West wrestler to win state championship honors.

Clarence Knox was selected for one of the tackle positions on the first all-state eleven because of his all-round ability. Besides doing the punting, he was pulled out of the line frequently to carry the ball. His defensive play also was outstanding.

Although West did not reach the state tournament, Dick Brecunier was awarded a first-string guard position on the first all-state five. He was chosen captain of the team during mid-season. His great defensive play, accurate basket eye, and uncanny burst of speed in getting under the basket for short shots led to his selection. His play drew a great deal of praise from the critics.

Football, 1937

The Old Rose eleven, under the first year tutelage of Coach E. Glenn Strobridge, had a very successful season, winning six games while losing one and tying one. The fine season was marred by a defeat by a strong Mason City team and a scoreless tie with Oskaloosa. The team won a share of the Mississippi Valley title and placed second in the Big Four. A successful season was climaxed by the winning of the city championship from East High, 13-0.

West High was honored by the selection of Clarence Knox, giant tackle, for a post on the I. D. P. A. all-state first team. Knox proved to be a valuable asset to the team as he took care of the punting duties, much of the ball carrying, and his work on the defense was to be praised. Kenny Oleson, flashy open field runner, provided the thrill of the season by running a kick-off back for a touchdown against Fort Dodge. Oleson was elected honorary captain at the close of the season.

Letters were awarded to the following boys: Bob Buxton, Marvin Miller, Dick Berry, Milo Rundall, Clarence Knox, Dick Brecunier, Dick Corton, Jim Walker, Bob Ballard, Kenneth Oleson, Don Schmock, Bob Penaluna, Gerald Maring, Jack Young, and Frank Wolf. Of these, Buxton, Miller, Rundall, Corton, Walker, Ballard, Oleson, Schmock, and Maring will be lost by graduation.

West High cagers had a very successful season, winning twenty victories while losing only four games. The Old Rose, under the direction of Coach E. Glenn Strobridge, won the Big Four Conference, placed third in the Mississippi Valley, and captured the city championship two victories over one.

Coach Strobridge had very fine material as he had seven returning lettermen. West won the sectional tournament held on our court, and advanced to the finals of the district before meeting defeat at the hands of a strong Cedar Falls team. West's quintet was captained by Dick Brecunier, the bulwark of the defense, who was elected at mid-season. Brecunier was chosen on the I. D. P. A. all-state first team for one of the guard positions. His defensive play, ball handling, and his uncanny burst of speed to get under the basket for short shots led to his selection. Kenneth Oleson and Lynn Schrock, West's scoring twins, received honorable mention.

Letters were awarded to the following boys: Lynn Schrock, Kenneth Oleson, Captain Dick Brecunier, Bob Ballard, Lawrence Gilley, Max Paige, Bob Reed, and Merle Rowland. Dick Brecunier will be the only letterman back next year, and he will be lost by graduation at mid-season.

Wrestling

The Old Rose '37-'38 wrestling forces hit a new high in their three year span as a major sport, by turning in nine victories over some of the state's best wrestling squads, while dropping one decision to Fort Dodge's state champion grapplers, and battling to a draw with Mason City.

Though the Wahawks pushed Fort Dodge for the top spot in the Big Four Conference, they had to be content with second place behind the powerful Dodgers. The team took the Quadrangular Meet at East Waterloo, competing with New Hampton, Cresco, and East, scoring forty-eight points. The district wrestling meet at Valley High of West Des Moines proved to be a rather easy stepping stone to the state meet as the Old Rose wrestlers gained nine positions in the finals, the largest representation of any school. This was the first year Valley High has not won the district title.

Dale Penn, 145-pound wrestling ace, carried West High's colors to the top by landing the Wahawk's first state individual title. The Old Rose grapplers placed fourth in the team points. Fred Christen, eighty-five pounder, and Bob Penaluna, heavyweight, won second and third places, respectively. Fred Christen, scrappy matster, won his second Y. M. C. A. wrestling crown, this time in the eighty-five-pound class. Bert Moritz, one hundred fifteen-pound firebrand, captained the well balanced mat squad.

The wrestling team, under the tutelage of Coach Finn Eriksen, has loomed as a distinct threat for state honors.

Track, 1938

Front Row: Don Henry, Bob Jacklin, Eugene Metcalf, Merle Rowland, Bob Ballard, Wallace Gates (Captain), Kenneth Oleson, Dick Nottger, Cloyce Lockey, William Phillips.
Second Row: Coach Meeter, Harold Guetzlaff, Fred Clark, Harry Moore, Bill Bunch, David Porter, Jim Struthers, Milo Rundall, Eldon Schumacher, Bob Alexander, Bob Lindstrom, Mr. Boller.
Third Row: John Spencer, Clifton Gibbs, Don Stevens, John Yungclas, Wallace Brown, Leask Hermann, Max Brandhorst, Bill Andrew, George Appleby, Dick Dewees (Trainer).

Due to a lack of indoor training facilities, West High's track team of 1938 was off to a slow start. The team had its first test at Iowa City in the Mississippi Valley Conference Indoor Meet, which was won by Davenport with a score of forty and two-thirds points. West was seventh with twelve and one-half points.

The next test was the State Indoor Meet, which was won by East Des Moines. The only points gathered for West were by William Phillips in the shot put and Oleson in the high jump and broad jump.

Two weeks later the team competed with Dubuque and East Waterloo in the latter's field. Score: Dubuque, forty-seven and five-tenths points; West, forty-five and one-sixth points; East, forty-two. Oleson won the high jump, broad jump, and javelin to carry off high honors. State Champion Wallace Gates won his specialty, the mile run.

The following Saturday, West competed in the Cedar Falls relays. Bill Phillips won the shot put with a nice toss of forty-six feet, four inches, setting a new school record. Merle Rowland placed third in the pole vault. Kenneth Oleson was second in the broad jump and tied with Pedersen of Ames for first in the high jump.

On May seventh, the team journied to Estherville, and in a snow storm, walked off with the honors for the third straight year. This brought to West High permanent possession of the beautiful trophy presented by the Estherville Chamber of Commerce. Scores of the first three ranking schools: West, sixty; Estherville, thirty-eight; Sioux Falls, South Dakota, thirty-one. Oleson won the broad jump and javelin; Phillips, the shot; Metcalf, the four-forty; Schumacher, the eight-eighty; and Ballard, the low hurdles.

The State District Meet was held on Sloane Wallace Field under the lights, and for the second straight year in district competition, West tied with Dubuque for top honors. Bill Phillips added to his school record with the shot, a nice toss of forty-seven feet, eleven inches. Oleson won his specialty, the high jump, and placed second in the javelin and broad jump. The medley relay team placed second to qualify for state finals at Ames, May 28. The team was made up of Eugene Metcalf, Bob Ballard, Dick Nottger, and Wallace Gates.

The East West dual track meet was held at West High on May 18. West won the meet with seventy-two points, East scoring fifty-five points. The Wahawks won all the field events except one. The team was well balanced and showed unusual power in all events held.

The Big Four track meet was held Monday, May 23. West won the meet with ninety-eight points; East was second with sixty-eight points. There were no records broken during the meet, due mostly to a strong wind. West won two relays, the mile and two mile. The Wahawks won ten first places, the other places being evenly divided. This was the fourth consecutive year West has won the Big Four meet.

Student life is enriched by fun and friendships. The memories of pleasant associations will linger long after equations and conjugations are forgotten.

Many of these memories are kept alive by pictures. But the results of the too-rapid exposures of our candid cameras of today are often as unflattering as those produced by the long and painful posing of the tin-type days.

Soliloquy of a Statue

For many years I have stood here at the end of the hall, apparently unnoticed. Not even the teachers, who, with slight ceremony, move those who are prone to loiter, have questioned my right to stand here as long as I wish, unrebuked. But evidently I am appreciated after all, for the students look at me more respectfully since the editor has had me pose for a picture for the Wahawk.

I did have a feeling of injured dignity when Bob Stephenson, who was assisting the photographer, reached up with an old broom to brush the cobwebs from my hair, and right while my picture was being taken, too! Doubtless it did improve my appearance and I am also able now to think more clearly. I was speechless with mortification because another exposure had to be made, but oh! so thankful that Mr. Gibson was not obliged to reprimand me for not standing perfectly still.

Editor's Note:

The foremost handwriting expert in the country visited our school the other day. She was immediately attracted by the many artistic signatures that decorate our excuse slips. "Oh," she exclaimed, clapping her hands, "how I would enjoy analyzing a few of these specimens of characteristic handwriting." Your Wahawk editor expressed her interest and desire that she do so. It is a pleasure, indeed, for us to print the following. No names need be given for we feel certain that with these clear analyses of character and our familiarity with each example, to give the names would add nothing—and might detract from the charm of the character reading.

1. The great demand for this signature has caused it to become somewhat crystallized in form. Kindliness blended with dignity influenced the conformation of the first letter, and this is also true in a lesser degree of the last. A study of the second letter told me that some practices of its author were, from one viewpoint, most cruel; but the last letter revealed the fact that in reality he or she possessed a kindly heart. The definitely made periods after each letter indicate decision, that, once made, will not be revoked.

2. The next signature is easily classified. The straight lines and pronounced angles could have been made by no one except a mathematician. They are unconscious products of the knowledge that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points, and that an angle registers a definite impression upon the optical nerve.

3. The long tail on the end of this signature is all we may see of its author, for she moves herself and everybody else around with so much rapidity that she looks like a straight line. The formation of the letters indicates a very independent nature.

4. On glancing at the next signature, I instantly formed a mental picture of the writer. But one type of person could produce it. The clearness, simplicity, the altitude of the strokes, and the shape of the second letter, are all evidence of a tall, unassuming person.

5. Only a hand accustomed to wield a darning needle or to stir the gravy could write with such a flourish.

6. These upright initials indicate many friends, few foes, and a courageousness necessary to teach those children somewhat slow in their English.

7. I would swiftly classify this person as an appreciative and observant student of things scientific—one who grasps the vastness, profundity, and ultramundane stability of the relationships between the myriad constellations of the cosmos.

Is that what made you a big shot, Bill?
Some of our attractive Junior misses.
Who's that in the boat, Tarzan or Popeye?

Hey, gals—Who's the good-looking one?
You don't look very happy, Raymond. How long are you up for?
It looks as if Elinor doesn't want her picture taken.
Maxine is in a pensive mood.
Can't you take it, Bill?
Did somebody say he looks intelligent?

We bet Gail will get her man.
Things are looking up for Bob and Leo.
Swing it, Grenadiers!
We hardly recognize Harold. However, it's a very becoming pose!

You'd never believe from this picture that Mr. Hutchison is a golfer.
Aren't Bob and Wayne affectionate?
You should smile more often, Dorothy. You do it well.
The camera club "takes" a good picture.
Can you "spare" a bite, Charlotte?
Here's a candid shot of our ace cameraman.
How's that for an A-1 set of dimples?
Why the smile, Clara? Joe's in town, I betcha.

Hey, Eleanor and Jeanette? The Russians have a name for it.
Look lively lads! Here come Elaine, Lucille and June.
They call him "Romeo."
Betty and Mack don't look very congenial.
Jorja doesn't want to be bothered—she's studying.
I wonder what her telephone number is.
We'd like to see all of that formal.
Spring must be in the air—Phyllis and LaVerne. Peek-a-boo, Beatrice.
Roy and Bert look like two of a kind to me.
Aha! Looks like spring is on the way from that warming smile.

A VISION OF BLISS

As I sit here at my desk and try to study,
A thought keeps coming o'er and o'er to me;
If it wasn't for the lessons and teachers,
What a lovely, lovely place this school would be.

Just to have a social gathering in the classrooms,
If you didn't, just to stay at home and snore;
Not to need excuses when you're absent;
When you're tardy not to stay 'till after four.

When you're tired, just to stay away from classes,
When your lesson's not prepared, to get at least a C.
Just to come here in the morning—if you wished to;
What a lovely, lovely place this school would be.

If they only took you to and from your dwelling
In a taxi, like a multi-millionaire;
If movies only went on without stopping,
If they only kept a soda fountain here.

Three long years would pass away too quickly;
A school year would be all too short for me,
If it wasn't for the lessons and the teachers,
What a lovely, lovely place this school would be.
